Health Department.

The Bureau of American Republics has decided upon the Van Ness-Park site as the home for its new buildings, and Secretary Root, on behalf of the commission, has announced that after much consideration the offer of that ground has been accepted and it will be purchased.

The property belongs to George Washington University, which bought it more than a year ago, with the intention of crecting the university buildings there.

The price paid is not given but is known to be within the $250,000 appropriated by Congress. The tract embraces about five acres and includes the entire square bounded by Seventeenth and Eighteenth streets, Virginia avenue, and B and C streets.

The old Van Ness mansion still stands and is used by the George Washington University for an engineering school. The work of demolition will commence as soon as possession is taken.

In addition to the $250,000 appropriated

The usual custom was followed as in misdemeanor cases, all of the complaints being dismissed by Judge I. G. Kimball with a forfeiture of $5 noted. Thus the cases were ended and the work of the Health Department through its inspectors resulted in no punishment of the alleged offenders, as the payment of the sum of $5 and the protection from publicity is considered as insignificant.
